What is Vocational Evaluation?

Vocational evaluation is a comprehensive, systematic process in which consumer and staff work together to identify a viable vocational goal; such assessment may include testing or assessment of interests, abilities, aptitudes, work tolerances, academic achievement levels, intellectual functioning, employability skills, as well as other relevant behavioral observations to assist the consumer in understanding their vocational potential.

A report is then generated to address not only appropriate career options, but also:

- Transportation Needs
- Environmental Barriers
- Medical Needs
- Psychological Issues
- Behavioral Concerns
- Work Accommodations

Who Are We?

Our highly qualified staff consists of Certified Rehabilitation Counselors and Certified Vocational Evaluators who have been evaluating people with disabilities since 2005. We are knowledgeable in the rehabilitation needs of people with disabilities and their rights under the Rehabilitation Act of 1973 and subsequent amendments, Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), and the Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA).

As professionals in the field of vocational evaluation, we are not only trained in assessing individuals, but we are knowledgeable about job requirements, job training opportunities, job and testing accommodations, and the local labor markets. We want to help people with disabilities put the pieces together and find the right job.

What is Independent Living?

It's about finding the tools to be your own best resource. It's about individuals living with disabilities exerting their rights to live as independently as possible, make personal life choices, and achieve full community inclusion.

Services are provided to all individuals with a disability and may include:

- Advocacy
- Independent Living Skills
- Information and Referral
- Peer Support
- Transition Services
- And more...
